

Wade powers on Fantasy Island, a video game set in ever changing fantasy landscapes. As the game powers on, he is greeted by THE HOST - an ethereal guide.

THE HOST

Welcome, weary traveler, to Fantasy Island. There's only one rule here: leave your troubles at the door as you travel through time to keep us all alive. It looks like this is your first time joining us online, spreading your wings outside of the confines of your own island. But, to venture to parts unknown, you'll need a team. Let's get you started.

There's a whir as Wade's character is transported to the first world and time: a western saloon from the late 1800's. The Host stands outside the door.

THE HOST

When you're ready, head on inside and see the bartender for a drink and a seat. We'll find you a table and get your meet and greets started! If you hit it off with someone, be sure to hit X and to let me know. You'll see your matches at the end of the round!
